A way to give & save on taxes

“I wish I had known about IRA QCD gifts sooner.”

In 2023, a Residential Living resident made an IRA QCD (Qualified Charitable Distribution) gift to Pleasant View Communities.

The resident explains that he wishes he had known about an IRA QCD gift sooner and hopes others will consider it to save on taxes while blessing your neighbors at Pleasant View.

Once you are age 73, you are required to make an annual RMD (required minimum distribution) from your IRA. Normally, distributions from a traditional IRA are taxable when received (and might increase your tax bracket).

With a QCD, however, these distributions become tax-free as long as they're paid directly from the IRA to an eligible charitable organization (like Pleasant View or your church). You can donate all or a portion of your RMD (to one or more eligible charitable organizations).

An individual donor can contribute up to $105,000 per year in QCDs, as long as that individual is 70½ years old or older. For married couples, each spouse can make QCDs up to the $105,000 limit for a potential total of $210,000.

Mindy Fetherman, Development Director, can provide a simple one-page form for you to complete and share with your IRA administrator.

Once Pleasant View receives your gift, you will get an IRA-QCD-specific gift acknowledgement that you'll need for your taxes. IRA QCD gifts are claimed on the front page of Form 1040 (not as an itemized deduction on schedule A). Your tax-preparer or financial advisor can answer questions you may have.
